FRENCH DEFEAT THE GERMANS IN INITIAL BATTLE OF THE WAR

Paris, France, Aug. 3–French arms have scored a victory in a bloody engagement at Pepit Croix. A corps of Uhlans attacked the French forces just beyond the town and the defenders replied with machine guns and mowed down the Germans. The Uhbans charged several times but were unable to withstand the withering fire of the defenders and finally retired in disorder, leaving a number of dead on the field. The French also took a number of prisoners.

The frontier posts were surprised by the German advance and were ordered to fall back as the enemy approached. The Uhlans confident because of the trifling resistance encountered charged at top speed directly at a spot where the French column lay in wait. The French fire was withheld until the Germans were in range. The French fire was then opened. Many horses fell and threw the whole column into confusion. The German commander ordered a retreat, but formed his troops for another charge. The charge failed.

News of this, the first victory to French arms brought great rejoicing in the city. More fighting is expected. French aviators have mapped out the entire German advance. Infantry and artillery are being hurried to the Longway garrison. It is the intentions of France to assume the initiative here and drive back the invaders by sheer force.

TODAY'S WAR NEWS IN BRIEF

American Tourists Are Bottled Up And Cannot Reach Home

(By Frank P. Merrick,
International News Service)

Paris, Aug. 3—Panic seized the hundreds of American tourists in this city today when they learned that all trains to Boulogne had been stopped and there was a little or no chance for the present at least of their reaching any of the English or Holland seaports. Some, in desperation, chartered automobiles and prepared for dash to seaports by this method, but it is doubtful if they will reach their destination as it is understood that the government has given orders to its frontier guards to let no one out of the country without a special permit. No such permits have been issued as yet. Now the only escape left open to the Americans marooned here is by Spain, a long and hazardous journey.

Some of the largest hotels in the city will be compelled to close their doors within a day or two owing to the scarcity of food and its increasing cost and to the almost utter losses of their staff of employees. Practically every able bodied waiter, cook and attache of hotels has quit his job or will do so in a day or two to take up arms for his country.

The Morris-Astoria and Ritz are short handed and may have to follow the example of the hotels that are closed.

United States Ambassador Myron T. Herrick has thrown open his home and offices to the Americans here and he and his staff are doing everything possible to alleviate conditions. There are many guests at the Continental hotel.

ANOTHER PATROLMAN FEELS AXE; SAYS HE ATE WITH "GIRLIES"

Simpson is the fourth officer to feel the official ax within the past three days, Officers Spicer, Leslie and Gansley being similarly suspended Friday evening.

Simpson is charged with frequenting a questionable house on West Eleventh street while he was supposed to be on duty Friday evening. Reports reached Chief McCarty from a reliable source, according to his statement Monday morning, that Simpson had taken lunch with the inmates of the Ellie Gordley resort last Friday night, about midnight. After a short investigation, Chief McCarty stated that the result warranted the suspension of the officer. A more thorough investigation will be conducted during Monday.

Simpson admitted to Chief McCarty that he had been in the resort at the time mentioned in the complaint, but said he went in there to fix the strap to his "billy club," which had become unfastened. He denies having lunched with the girls or spent any time chatting with them, as alleged.

Simpson was appointed by Safety Director Lake about May 1st and has served continually since that time. He was only assigned to the West Eleventh street beat two nights before his unfortunate experience.

War Won't Affect New Traction Line

Laboring under the impression that L. D. York had disposed of the constructive bonds of the new traction road now in process of building to London financiers, many people felt that the European war would retard the building of the line. When questioned concerning the same, Mr. York informed The Times that the war would not have the least bearing on the improvement, which would go right along to its earliest possible conclusion. The fact of the matter is that London capital is not interested in the proposition, the bonds having been sold to John Nickerson, Jr., who is at the head of one of the biggest bonding houses in the country and whose office is located at 60 Broadway, N. Y.

C. & O. FERRY DISABLED

A misunderstanding has resulted in the C. & O. ferryboat Chesapeake being put out of commission for a couple of days, thereby greatly interfering with traffic.

The railway company had contracted with a Cincinnati concern to have new boiler flues installed on the boat, the firm agreeing to complete the work within thirty hours' time. The new equipment was shipped to Portsmouth Saturday and the men who were to do the work arrived on the C. & O. fast flyer Sunday afternoon. The boat was turned over to them at 3 p. m., and the old flues removed, when the startling discovery was made that the flues which were aboard the wharfboat were 4 feet short of the required length.

A new supply of flues was telegraphed for at once and should arrive from Pittsburgh in time to have the work completed and the boat ready to resume her trips by Tuesday night or Wednesday morning. Meanwhile the upper ferryboat, Peerless, has been engaged to make all train trips, while no effort is being made to take care of other business under the circumstances.

Monarchs Who Make Up the Triple Alliance.

Kaiser Wilhelm is the dominant figure in the Triple Alliance (Germany, Austria and Italy). He has maintained the inheritance of Bismarck, who organized the Triple Alliance for the purpose of protecting the integrity of the German speaking peoples of Germany and Austria, chiefly against reprisals of France after her defeat in 1870 and the possible aggressions of mighty Russia in the future. The Triple Alliance has maintained the peace of Europe for more than a quarter of a century. The crisis brought about by the Kaiser's demands in the Agidir incident was an occasion in which the Triple Alliance might have been used against peace. Now has come another occasion. Austria would not have dared to attack Servia did she not feel she would be backed by Germany and Italy in case of general war throughout Europe.

Franz Josef is not considered a great statesman, but in the many years of his reign he has seen every trick of European diplomacy and he has been able to steer his country through a safe course. The King of Italy has never displayed qualities of statesmanship to make him a powerful individual figure in Europe.

Miller, a truck gardener from up the river who brought a load of garden produce to this city Saturday and later capitulated to John Barleycorn, leaving his produce in charge of a [illegible] whom he met on the steamboat coming down, pleaded guilty to a charge of intoxication and was fined $5. The fine was appropriated from the proceeds of the sale of the balance of his stock, which was sold to local dealers.

J. W. Carroll entered a plea of guilty to the charge of assault, preferred by Alice Carrington and was fined $10. The Carrington woman was also arraigned on a disorderly charge, but the mayor dismissed her.

J. B. McHaney, August As[illegible], Harry W[illegible], Harry Tipton and Fred Nelson, were each arrested on a drunk charge Monday morning to which they plead guilty. All but Nelson were fined $5, he being assessed a fine of $10, as it was his second offense in less than a week. McHaney made arrangements to pay his fine, but the balance were put on the streets to work. Joe Mayfield also went on the streets in default of a payment of a $10 fine for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, while Harry Rice forfeited a $5 bond by his non-appearance on a drunk charge.

William Belcher and James Harris, two South Webster young men, are also on the "work gang" in default of payments of $10 fines assessed against them in police court Monday morning for disorderly conduct. They were arrestd late Saturday night in the B. & O. railroad yards in the West End, where they had fallen asleep. When arrested, the two men had two quarts of whiskey and one pint of brandy between them, but no money.

A fine of $25 and costs was meted out to Fred Harris, a negro, who was convicted of the theft of $3.90 from Joseph Banks, also colored, Saturday night. Harris and Banks occupied the same room at a North End rooming house Saturday night, and when Banks awoke Sunday morning, his bed partner was gone, also his wallet. Harris will be committed to the Cincinnati workhouse for sixty days. Banks located his roommate in the North End Sunday afternoon and had him arrested.

George O'Neill and Charles Spencer, two negroes arrested for train riding Saturday evening, were each fined $10 in police court Monday morning. A report reached headquarters shortly before their arrest that trainriders had thrown coal from the train and had struck a passerby, slightly injuring him. The guilt of the two negroes could not be established, but they were fined for train riding.

C. M. Fligor of Findlay street, complained to the mayor Monday that his neighbors had been slandering and annoying his family. The mayor promised to investigate the complaint.

Mrs. Turner of 835 Eleventh street has complained to the mayor that her husband has deserted her, taking with him $15, which was all of the money she possessed. An effort will be made to locate him, but it is thought that he has left the city.

The Movies

"The Only Son" At Lyric Today and Tuesday

Thos. W. Ross, himself in "The Only Son" will be the big attraction at the Lyric theatre today and Tuesday. This splendid high class production of Winchell Smith's famous American heart drama will undoubtedly make a great impression here as it has been a delightful sensation everywhere it has been shown. Mr. Ross is supported by the cast of the original New York production which ran for nearly four hundred nights on Broadway, and he is seen at his best. It is a bigger and better picture than "Checkers," in which he appeared recently. From start to finish it is a masterpiece in every particular. Here is an outline of the story:

Thomas Brainerd, Sr., as a prospector, is a dutiful and loving husband and father. Two children, Gertrude and Thomas, Jr., are born while the Brainerds live in a log cabin in the mountains. Brainerd strikes gold, goes to New York, where he becomes a financial power. He neglects his wife, devotes every moment of his time to his growing industries, simply supplies funds to his family and his wife, alone and melancholy, is fascinated by an artist and consents to "sit" for a painting. Feeling her neglect keenly, Mrs. Brainerd becomes a victim to the wiles of the artist, who, however, is killed by the husband of a former victim before the affair has progressed too far.

Brainerd, learning of his wife's affair with the artist, orders her from the house. Thomas sides with and accompanies his mother. Heretofore a worthless spendthrift, Thomas now becomes ambitious and joins interest with a penniless inventor, goes West, establishes a factory, makes a go of it, sells out to his father at an enormous advance, convinces his father that his mother is innocent, and, as he transfers the invention to his father's firm, sees his mother in his father's arms, which example he immediately follows by proposing to the girl he has always loved. The story ends in an unconventional, happy manner.

Columbia Features

The Columbia today offers a dandy five cent show in a two reel special picture by the Selig players entitled "His Last Appeal"; this picture is one of intense interest and filled with plenty of action and thrilling scenes throughout; for tomorrow another two reel special, "A Diamond In The Rough" will be shown; this picture is above the average two-part picture and the story is one of interest from start to finish.

For Thursday's special, Manager Tynes announces that he has secured Francis X. Bushman in one of the greatest pictures he has ever acted; it is a three part production entitled "Blood Will Tell" and is a story of the old Colonial days when our ancestors prided themselves on their ancestry and blood. Watch for our further announcement on "Blood Will Tell."

At The Exhibit

Another installment of the celebrated picture "Our Mutual Girl" will be seen at the Exhibit tonight. See it. Remember tomorrow night we are featuring "The Million Dollar Mystery." Episode No. 6 shows the coaching party of the countess.

The opening finds Braine and the Countess discussing their failures. They discovered a strange man watching the Countess' apartment. Alarmed, they decide they must act quickly. They plan another scheme to get not only Florence, but Jones too. Florence is invited by the Countess to a coaching party out to an old mansion to carry out the fiendish plan. On the way the coaching party meet Norton. Fearing he knows not what, he secretly follows. The plot progresses. Florence is lured into the trap. Norton rescues her aided by Jones. The three start away on horseback, but, being discovered are immediately pursued. Jones stops and by fearless, hazardous tactics delays the pursuers, while Florence and Norton gallop away.

At The Scenic

Tonight at the Scenic "The Cycle of Adversity," a splendid drama featuring Bob Leonard and Edna Maison, will be shown in addition to a roaring comedy travesty on the war in Mexico entitled "Mike and Jake In Mexico." This splendid comedy is one continuous riot of laughter from beginning to end, a splendid program, one you can't afford to miss.

Tomorrow's big feature at this popular East End theatre is the great Gaumont detective drama in three parts entitled "The Opium Smuggler." This great picture is one continuous round of thrills, action and surprises from main title to tail piece. Be sure you get to see it.

THEATRICAL

At Millbrook Park Casino

"The Strength of Men" is the offering the Regan Lewis Company will present at Millbrook Park Casino tonight. This play is one of the best and strongest comedy dramas of the day. The story fairly teems with human interest and keeps one keyed up to the highest pitch. The different scenes are so thoroughly tremendous as to make you gasp with wonder and excitement.

The entire production is in the capable hands of Mr. Walt Curtis, the stage director of the company. Mr. Curtis has looked carefully into every detail and he promise something new in the way of scenery, etc. Mr. Curtis will also have an opportunity to display his histrionic ability in the role of Dave, a big hearted lumberjack. He is wonderfully adapted for a part of this kind on account of his splendid physique. Mr. Jones, the clever heavy man of the company who made such a tremendous success as Joe Brooks last week, will show his versatility in something entirely different from anything he has done yet. Mr. Jones is one of the best heavy men ever seen in Portsmouth.

The comedy will be furnished by Mr. Jack Regan, assisted by Mr. Chas. Taft, a new member of the company. Mr. Coroneos as Flapjack the old trapper will be splendid. Miss Egbert and Miss Barnett in their respective roles are sure to please by their conscientious work. Miss Lewis as the old mother is bound to make a new hit.

"The Strength of Men" will run the entire week with matinees on Thursday and Saturday.

TODAY'S VERSE

When Bill's Playing Ball

The pup is in the center field,
The cat is on first base,
Behind the mask is half concealed
The rabbit's stolid face.
There's no admission to the game,
There are no fans at all,
But there's excitement just the same,
When Billy's playing ball.

The pup does all a pup can do,
To keep 'em off the ground,
The cat says not so much as mew
No matter how they pound.
The rabbit merely winces when
The fast ones bark his shins,
They play the game like gentlemen,
But Billy always wins.

For though he's very, very small,
He's managed to achieve
A wondrous magic with the ball
That's known as make believe.
I've watched him as the days rolled round,
And I've discovered that
He's always Matty on the mound
And Baker at the bat.
J. J. Montague in New York American.

Served Him Right

"Doctor," said the druggist, "this is a bitter mess you have ordered for Mr. Blank."

"I know it is."

"What are you trying to cure?"

"Trying to cure him calling me out in the middle of the night when there's nothing the matter with him."

It Sure Does

Doesn't it provoke you when you want to show that you understand a joke to find that you have laughed in the wrong place.

"Men have all the luck."

Better Than Pups

Pet pigs are the fad in London, and there's some sense to that. When a person becomes weary of the fad, he can eat it.

Natural History

"Pop?"

"Well, Rudolph."

"Did you ever catch a catfish?"

"Yes, indeed, son, plenty of them."

"Do catfish go out nights?"

"Yes, and lights are used to catch them."

"Do they go 'meaouw' and 'psststst' like a cat?"

"Hardly."

"Did you ever catch a dogfish?"

"Lots of them."

"Do the dogfish fight with the catfish?"

"That's enough of that stuff, son. Now run along."

"But I want to ask you just one thing more."

"Well, what is it?"

"Does a dogfish wag its tail when it's happy?"

The girl who seldom gets a letter nearly always blames the mail man.

Superintendent Of Pike Co. Schools

At a meeting of the Pike county board of education, held Monday at Waverly, the resignation of William M. Schumaker, of Paulding, a county superintendent, was accepted and Ed N. Dieterich, of Piketon, was chosen in his stead for a term of two years at a salary of $1400 a year and office expenses. Dieterich was an applicant at the time Schumaker was chosen a few weeks ago.

Prof. Schumaker was superintendent of the schools at Paulding, O. last year, and when the board of education of that town learned of his appointment as superintendent of the Pike county schools, the members voted him such substantial increase in salary that he was forced to accept. He had been hired for three years in Pike county at a salary of $1800 for the first year, $1900 for the second, and $2000 for the third.

Ed Dietrich is the son of H. C. Dietrich, of Piketon, and comes from a family of school teachers, H. C. Dietrich and George C. Dietrich, his brothers, being educators of prominence in the state. He was principal of the Lockland, Hamilton county, schools last year, and only last week was elected to the superintendency of the Bainbridge, O., schools, at a salary of $1100 a year. He formerly taught in the Chillicothe high school.

The board divided the county into three districts, the superintendent of each of which will receive a salary of $1200 a year. Louis McKinley, of Lucasville, who was superintendent of the Scioto township high school last year, is slated for the superintendency of one district, which will include all that part of the county east of the Scioto river. One other district will embrace the central portion of the county, including the townships of Jackson, Pee Pee, Newton, Pebble and Camp Creek, while the third district will include Perry, Mifflin, Benton and Sunfish townships.

Skull Fractured

Run down by a motorcyclist, whose identity was not learned, Custer Davis, an employe of the Excelsior Shoe Company, suffered a slight fracture of the skull Monday at the noon hour. The motorcycle struck Davis with sufficient force to hurl him ten feet. He was removed to his home, 921 Fourth, and a physician had to work with him some little time before he regained consciousness. Davis, who is a son of Mrs. Cordelia Adkins, says the motorcyclist got off his machine after the accident but when a large crowd started to collect he remounted his machine and rode away without his identity being disclosed.

Davis' condition is considered quite serious as he is suffering from concussion of the brain.

FACE A SIGHT WITH ERUPTION RESINOL CURED

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 5, 1913. "I had a small pimple on the side of my face, and it kept getting larger and larger. It had spread over one cheek, and as it would scab, water would come from it and every place the water would touch, another sore would form. It itched and burned and my face was a sight. I used several salves and ointments that were recommended, but none helped, until I tried Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment, which relieved me at once, and after using it about two weeks, my face was entirely clear. I cannot praise it enough." (Signed) Mrs. Rose Muller, 1313 Snyder Ave.

Physicians have prescribed Resinol for nineteen years. Every druggist sells Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment. [illegible] For free trial, write to Dept. K, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

The couple have no children. Numerous instances of alleged cruelty and assault are set forth in the petition, which also gives the dates when the alleged assaults were made.

Mrs. Newkirk seeks divorce, alimony, and restoration to her maiden name of Anna L. Jones.

Bierley & Yeley

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Dolly.—Is Hodge and Diltz married in the Portsmouth base ball team?

TWO CHUMS.

Hodge is married. Diltz is still heartwhole and fancy free.

Dear Dolly Wise.—I have several boy friends with whom I am not allowed to correspond. Is it proper to exchange postals on holidays?

SALLY.

Yes.

Dear Dolly.—I am a girl of eighteen. I like a boy very much. He has been going with a girl who is very loud, but I don't think he likes her. What do you think about it, Dolly?

ANXIOUS TO KNOW.

He probably knows what he wants. If he likes that kind of a girl, let him go with her. Why should you interfere?? If he was going with you, I am sure you wouldn't want any one to make him quit, would you?

Dear Dolly. I am a young man of 21. How often should I call on my lady friend during the week?

GEORGE.

If you love her and want to marry her, call on her often enough to cut out any other callers she may have. Does that suit you, George?

Miss Dolly Wise.—Does the date of birth required in wanting you to tell my fortune?

TIMES READER.

I must have the day of the month in order to tell your fortune. You need not mention the year. I can't print it in paper. Send stamped envelope for reply.

Dear Miss Wise.—I am a girl 20 years of age and in love with a fellow 23 years. He seems to care for me, and is so jealous he won't let me dance with any other fellow. There is a girl in Earlytown he is always talking about and saying she is so pretty and tries to flirt with her. Now would you please tell me how to turn him against her and make him think more of me?

TROUBLED GIRL.

Why not let the girl in Earlytown have him? I am sure you could find some one else you would like just as well. I haven't any use for a jealous man or woman.

Cincinnati, O., July 31.—Miss Dolly Wise.—I would like you to tell me if you think it possible for one to make a journey from New Orleans to Panama City traveling by water leaving New Orleans May 2nd and returning 19th of same month, stopping at Panama City several days? It doesn't seem to me like you can go there in that length of time. Please tell me how long it takes to make that trip?

ANXIOUS MABEL.

There is a boat leaving New Orleans every Wednesday and Saturday. You can make the trip in the time you specified and have five days in Panama.

Dear Dolly.—What treatment should be accorded a boy who asks advice through your column using my name and enough of his own, so all of our friends who read the paper may recognize the one for whom it is meant?

INDIGNANT GIRL.

Perhaps you are mistaken in this instance. A great many people have names alike. However, if you are certain, the only thing you can do, is to ignore the boy hereafter, and to so govern yourself that you will not again put yourself in such a position. A girl who acts with dignity and modesty need not be afraid of this kind of a boy, for she will not have done anything which he can point to as a discredit to her.

Dear Dolly.—How can I overcome that terrible fear of thunder and lightning? It seems to be almost an obsession with me.

FRIGHTENED WOMAN.

I do not know. However, if you shut all the windows and doors and keep out of a draught when it is lightning, it is not so apt to strike you. Everyone says "if it hits you, you will never know it." I will tell you that. Do you find any comfort?

Dear Dolly.—What do you think of an eavesdropper?

READER.

A person known to be an eavesdropper, is not looked upon with respect by anyone.

A Times Reader—I do not know of any such hotel.

Trinity Notes

John McMillan led the singing, assisted by his talented daughter at the piano. The class was favored with a selection Sunday morning by that popular quartet, the Pilgrim Singers. Never did they sing better than they did Sunday morning and the class showed their appreciation with a heavy encore. This musical organization is one of the big spokes in the Trinity Bible Class and gives the men high class Chautauqua grade of singing and they certainly deserve credit for their efforts in favoring the class with their artistic abilities. Their musical talents are not only appreciated in Portsmouth but scarcely a week passes but they receive calls from the surrounding towns and country for their services. It is a well-balanced quartet. Mr. Hood sings first tenor, Mr. Crawford second tenor, Mr. Miller first bass and Mr. Metzgar second bass. Every one has had much previous training. Mr. Crawford has been the mainstay of the Trinity choir as tenor for years. Mr. Hood is musical to his finger tips and Mr. Miller has had experience as leader in choir work in his previous home in Kentucky, while Mr. Metzgar was just born with a big bass voice that is the envy of all. Every voice is placed in its right place and the quality is all there with plenty to spare. Another thing that makes a hit with the men is that they sing their songs mostly without the aid of books and you can understand every word they sing.

Prof. Finney started the lesson with a memory test by asking what day of the month and year that Jesus entered Jerusalem, or rather Palm Sunday. The teacher had taken much pains in trying to fix this date in the minds of the pupils in April this year, and nearly all solemnly promised to remember it.

W. K. Dupre let Fame slip by when he said he did not remember. We had resolved to be easy on "Uncle Dick" Micklethwait this time, but it was too good to pass. He tried to prove an alibi, but when the class voted almost unanimously that he was present at this April session, he pulled in and acknowledged that he had forgotten. It will be a long while before they catch him up on dates again, as Uncle Dick has some memory. Mr. Roberts proved to be the hero, placing the date as April 2, A. D. 30.

Mr. Finney wished to emphasize the fact that we should study the Bible seriously and carefully and that it was deplorable the way some of our Bible students are deficient in dates and accurate knowledge. He next asked for the Golden Text, and right here Mr. Metzgar starred. He refused to be shaken and repeated it most impressively, which called for loud applause. But his triumph was short-lived, as the teacher asked him who wrote it, and he said, "Mark." Of course it was that grand old prophet Zachariah, hundreds of years before, who so minutely described this wonderful event.

The question was brought out as to whether Jesus Christ ever admitted that he was a King. It was shown by one member that he did admit it when he had that memorable meeting with Pilate.

The teacher drew a beautiful word picture when he contrasted the triumphal entry of Alexander the Great into Jerusalem and that of our Savior. Alexander with his hands red with blood, relying on submission by the use of the naked sword, and the other with the sins of the world upon His heart and offering His love and life as a sacrifice. One was the world's victor, the other the world's victim. The question was asked, "Why did Jesus allow Himself to be hailed as King?" and Charles Bridwell answered by saying it was to call the attention of as many people as possible to his crucifixion and sacrifice for our sins that was so soon to follow. He well knew they would fall away, but wished to put his sacrifice for sin before their eyes. The attendance was 125, a nice gain over last Sunday.

NOTES

Next Sunday is to be called Men's Day. Prof. Finney, in addition to having a lively session in the class, will make an address to the men upstairs in the main auditorium. Let all the men turn out and make this a red-letter day. Besides, you know the Professor always gives you something to think about, and in big chunks, too.

Another one of our members, Mr. John Dennison, will lead the prayer meeting Wednesday evening. Let us all turn out and help John have an interesting meeting.

Rev. Diehert made a short talk to the class Sunday morning. He invited the members to the regular services, when he made an address giving his experiences in New York and other places in helping the fallen and down and out men.

Let no one who reads these humble accounts of our class happenings imagine that all is jest and humor, as they are only the little ripples on the great stream of truth that flows from our able teacher.

GERMAN CITIZENS IN PORTSMOUTH ORDERED TO RETURN AND FIGHT FOR BELOVED VATERLAND

Every able bodied citizen of Germany, who now resides in Portsmouth or vicinity, has been officially ordered to return at once to Germany and fight for the honor of his "Vaterland." This order has been promulgated at the request of Kaiser Wilhelm by P. Mezger, Imperial German Consul, stationed at Cincinnati. The Times received a special delivery communication from Consul Mezger, Sunday requesting that the paper give publicity to a proclamation requesting all German citizens who are or will be 20 years of age in 1914 to at once make arrangements to return to Germany. The "notification" to this effect will be found on this page of the Evening Times, being printed in German, with the use of English type. The notification says in effect that German citizens are hereby ordered to at once make ready to return to Germany and to report for duty at Bezirkskommando. Those who are to return are cautioned not to sail on English, French or Russian vessels but to book passage on neutral ships that is on ships sailing under the flags of the United States, of Belgium, the Netherlands, Sweden, Norwegia and Italy.

The notification concludes with this paragraph: "All those residing in the states of Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana and West Virginia and being without means of transportation, will be provided with the necessary funds by the Imperial German Consulate at Cincinnati, Ohio, corner Main and Ninth streets, and are therefore requested to personally submit to the Consulate their military papers or other papers of identification as well as a certificate showing their inability to pay the fare." The notification is signed by "Mezger, Imperial German Consul." It is not known how many men in Portsmouth this decree will effect.

Austrian On Way To Europe To Fight Has Leg Cut Off By Train

Falling from N. & W. freight train extra north-bound No. 1400 in charge of Conductor Frank T. Crawford, at 5:30 Sunday morning, Eli Olioitch, an Austrian, 35 years old, had his left leg ground off just above the ankle and he had a close call from meeting a tragic death as he fell between two cars. He was removed to the Hempstead hospital, where it was necessary to take his foot off eight inches above the ankle as the bone was badly splintered. Olioitch claims he was on his way to Columbus where he had planned to meet a number of his countrymen who were planning to return to Europe to fight. He had been employed by the N. & W. up to a few days ago.

Jacobs' Junk Shop Was Gutted In Fire, Buildings Imperiled

Valuable property in one of the shopping centers of the city was endangered in a serious fire which broke out at 5:15 Sunday afternoon in the M. Jacobs Sons junk shop located on Third street just west of Chillicothe street. Before the firemen succeeded in putting the flames out the M. Jacobs Sons suffered a loss of $3,500, $2,000 being on their stock and $1,500 to their new building. Adjacent property was endangered, but the flames were extinguished before it was greatly damaged. Mr. Jacobs' two story frame dwelling just east of the junk shop was slightly damaged. The house was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. William Kinney and Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Metzger. They succeeded in saving most of their household effects. So cleverly was the fire handled by Chief McOuat and his men that nothing should have been disturbed in the homes.

The fire was discovered by boarders at the St. Louis hotel, which is located just across the street from the junk shop. Discovering smoke seeping through the front windows of the second floor of the building they gave the alarm and a few moments later the entire second floor was a mass of flames. Just how the fire started is not known. Chief McOuat who was soon upon the scene, is of the opinion that the fire started in a pile of waste paper and rags located in the rear of the second floor. There is where the blaze leaped the highest and was the most stubborn to combat.

Apprehensive that the fire would spread to the adjoining frame buildings and that the firemen would have a real fire on their hands, E. C. Hood, general manager of the Anderson Bros. company, ordered the outside sprinkling system opened on the Anderson building. This precautionary measure was deemed expedient after Mr. Hood learned that the fire shudders in the rear of the building were so warm that you could not keep your hand on them. While the sprinkling system worked satisfactorily it would have worked much smoother had the water not been so muddy. There was a thick layer of mud in the pipes, which reduced the force of the pressure.

When the firemen reached the scene dense clouds of smoke poured out of the Jacobs building. In a short time four lines of hose were playing on the flames and the firemen succeeded in confining them to the two story brick building, which Mr. Jacobs erected last fall. The entire roof was destroyed, the second floor was wiped out and the rear wall was damaged. The pressed brick front was not damaged to any extent. The frame windows were burned out.

Chief McOuat directed the fire fighting and it was fought systematically from all four sides. In this manner the frame dwelling to the east and west of the building were saved. Frank Timberlake lives in the house across the alley from the Jacobs place. When the fire broke out Edgar Metzger, brother of B. F. Metzger, was sitting in his room reading. He turned in the alarm from Third and Chillicothe streets. Mr. and Mrs. Metzger and Mrs. Wm. Kinney carried no insurance on their household goods, which were handled pretty roughly. As soon as the fire was placed under control they moved their furniture back into the home.

Max Jacobs stated that the firm's loss would reach $3,500. Of this amount $2000 was stock. The firm was to have made a big shipment of rags and rubber this week. There was very little ginseng in the place, but there were several carloads of rags and a lot of valuable rubber. The last person in the building was Max Jacobs, Jr., who went into the firm's office to get a book. This was 4:45 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Mr. Jacobs says the loss to his building is partially covered by insurance. The firm carried no insurance on its stock.

A panic ensued among the spectators when a hose burst near Third and Chillicothe streets. Many received a ducking. The crowd [illegible] one time reached fully 5,000. Clerks employed in nearby stores were on the job protecting their buildings, but their services were not needed. Street car traffic was disarranged and blocked for an hour by the fire. Normal service was restored by 6:30.

Atlas "Refund Day" Monday, July 13th

The many good women of Portsmouth who have been anxiously awaiting the announcement as to when "refund day" would occur at the Atlas company, can now cease their anxiety and begin hunting up their tickets. "Refund Day" has been officially decreed as having occurred on Monday, July 13. All persons who purchased goods at the Atlas company on that date can now have their tickets redeemed at face value.

On Monday morning, Henry Atlas, proprietor of the Atlas company, designated F. W. Sheridan, advertising manager of the Daily Times, to secure the sealed envelope which had ben left in the hands of H. B. Adams, assistant cashier at the Ohio Valley bank. The envelope was opened in the presence of Mr. Adams and contained the following:

"Portsmouth, Ohio, July 8, 1914. We agree to refund every purchase made at our store on Monday, July 13, providing the card is brought in bearing that date.

"The Atlas Co."

The "refund day" scheme, inaugurated in this city for the first time by the Atlas company, proved to be quite popular. Every day hundreds of inquiries have been received at the store asking when the date would be announced. On the above date the Atlas company sold almost $400 worth of merchandise.

Now who is it that will claim the "thirteenth" is an unlucky day? None of those who hold the tickets, anyway.

The mayor has promised to give the matter prompt attention.

TWO MEN BADLY HURT IN FREE-FOR-ALL FIGHT

Two men were badly injured in a free for all fight which took place on West Eleventh street shortly after midnight Saturday night, in which a half dozen men participated. An investigation of the trouble later led to a raid on the alleged Diltz resort on West Eleventh street, the Diltz woman, three of her "soiled doves," and three men being brought to the police station in the auto patrol, charges being filed against all of them. All were released on bond to appear for hearing Monday morning before the mayor.

Pearl Ackerman and Newton Zimmerman, local young men, were badly worsted in the encounter, Ackerman having an ugly gash above his left eye which required three stitches to close, while Zimmerman was struck such a terrific blow on the chin that his lower teeth [illegible] through the flesh. A physician had to be summoned to dress his wound, which was a painful one. William Moore, a young man of the West End, and an unknown companion, are alleged to have been their assailants.

Full particulars of the fight could not be learned Monday morning, as none of the accused was brought to trial. Ackerman and Zimmerman both claim that they were beset upon by Moore and his companions in front of the Diltz resort, who beat them up without cause. Moore secured his release Sunday on $5 bonds, but the mayor has ordered him rearrested, announcing that the nature of his offense warrants a hearing on the charge of assault. Others will likely be implicated in the trouble, if the police can locate them.

While the inmates of the resort had nothing to do with the fight, the police held that they were indirectly responsible for it, and Chief McCarty ordered a raid. Besides the Diltz woman, Zonie Hunt, Rebecca Bassler, and Lena Wood, three inmates, and Dan Miller, Ed Jones, and Jack Millhuff, three visitors, were loaded into the police patrol and brought to the police station.

A charge of conducting a house of ill-fame was lodged against the Diltz woman, the three girls were charged with being inmates of a house of that character, and the three men charged with visiting a house of that nature. Mrs. Diltz furnished security for the girls' appearance Monday morning, while [illegible] a bond for himself and his two companions.

None of the seven showed up for trial Monday morning when their names were called, but the mayor conducted the hearing in their absence. Mrs. Diltz was fined $100 and costs for running a house, and the three girls fined $50 and costs each for being inmates of such a house. Unless they can pay up, they will be locked up. The bonds of the three men were declared forfeited, which closed the cases against them.

They represent a membership of more than 400,000, distributed in 2,022 lodges in the United States, Canada, Mexico, Philippine Islands and Alaska.

While there will be a business meeting every day the principal object of the conclave is convivial. The Eagles meet to promote good fellowship in the organization and provide a good time for the members.

E. J. Shannahan, president of the local aerie of Eagles, is chairman of the executive committee which prepared for the national convention. Mr. Shannahan is organizer of the convention slogan, "Kansas City the Heart of America." He expects to pound that idea into the minds of every convention visitor. The executive headquarters for the powerful Eagle organization are in Kansas City.

The assets of the organization are now in excess of $10,000,000. Last year the Eagles disbursed $5,200,000. The assets consist of $1,000,000 in real estate, [illegible] in cash and another $2[illegible] in loans and investments. The convention is the largest of its kind ever held here, and the most elaborate preparations have been made for the entertainment. Part of the expense of holding the convention will be borne by the Kansas City aerie.

The biggest feature of the convention will be on Thursday. This will be a parade many lines in length, and will be led by a band [illegible] of more than 120 musicians.

FIRST BAPTIST BIBLE CLASS

(By L. G. H.)

The Men's Bible Class of the First Baptist church took another drop in attendance, only 10 being present. The lesson taught by Dr. T. H. McAfee will be found in Mark 11:1-11, "The Triumphal Entry."

There is nothing in life but what is touched by God's commandments. God directs us where we [illegible] God salvation to our prayers. There is not one of us lost who has had a desire for salvation. If you look for salvation aside from where God said to look, there will be no chance to find it. You have not been looking in the right place.

Had these men not looked for the colt, where they were told to look, they would not have found the colt.

God is specific in his statement. The man who is not sincere cannot find God. When sincere and looking in the right place, we will find an answer to our prayer. We must abide in Him. The men followed the direction of God and found the young colt just as explained.

God's great [illegible] is on the first handed good, but for centuries and centuries God has been handed second handed goods.

Give God the first chance. [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] that the Lord hath need of him.

The Master had anticipated the objections. All [illegible] Suppose these men had [illegible] words to the objection, but [illegible] stated that they wished to borrow the colt and would soon return it; that these men knew [illegible] certain, but still at the words, "The Lord hath need of him," they straightway let them go.

There are no words as strong as the words coming from God. The disciples could have said, "Wait, we will get you a chariot, or an Arabian steed, but He asked only for a colt. God takes what we give Him and receives what we give.

When the redeemed Christians put [illegible] in the right place, we can look for His coming.

NOTE.

The whole Sunday school showed their appreciation of the return of their [illegible], Prof. James Yeley. Brother Yeley has been absent on an extended trip for the past several weeks. A grand applause was extended to him as he took his usual place.

GIRL AND MAN ARE CAUGHT WHEN TRYING TO BOARD FREIGHT

Apprehended while in the N. & W. railroad yards Saturday evening, while they were waiting to board a freight train headed east, Preston Hurley, 24, and Louella Whitt, 18, a young Kentucky couple, are being held at the police station while a thorough investigation is being made of the events preceding their arrival here.

Railroad men reported to the police that the couple were evidently planning to leave the city on a freight train, a fact which they freely admitted after their arrest. Officer Clark arrested them near the Peebles Paving Brick plant, and they were brought to the station in the auto patrol.

Hurley refused to talk after his arrest, but the girl told Chief McCarty that they were planning to return to their old home near Woodman, Kentucky, situated in the southeastern part of the state. She said that they came to Portsmouth one week ago to live with her mother, Mrs. Florence Hatfield, of 1020 Twelfth street, who preceded them to this city about two weeks ago. After staying here a week, they became homesick for their old home and Saturday evening decided to leave. Lack of funds forced them to try the freight train route.

Chief McCarty will investigate the girl's story, as he is of the opinion that she has omitted some of the important details. If it is shown that the man induced the girl to come to this city for immoral purposes, he will be held to face a serious charge. The girl denies having had improper relations with the man, although she admitted to the chief that he tried to take advantage of her at different times since they have been in this city.

The girl claims to be 18 years of age, but all the police officers unite in saying that she does not look to be over 15 years of age. They are a typical Kentucky couple from the mountainous section of the state.

The examination in police court Monday morning exonerated Hurley of any criminal intent, the girl corroborating Hurley's statement that he was looking after her because her mother had deserted her and left her alone in a strange city without any funds or friends. Both of them seemed to be innocent in the ways of the world, and were very much embarrassed at the gaze of the large crowd in police court.

The mayor, however, held that Hurley was guilty of loitering, and fined him $20, which he will have to work out on the streets. The girl was turned over to Juvenile Judge Beatty, who is undecided as to what disposition to make of her case. If her relatives can be located, she will be sent to them, and if not, she will likely be committed to some state institution. Judge Beatty had Hurley before him after he had been arraigned in police court, and came to the same conclusion as the mayor, that Hurley was not guilty of any criminal acts toward the girl, at least, not in the jurisdiction of his court.

GLOBE TROTTER WITH ONE LEG

Hopping around the world on one leg, aided and abetted by a pair of crutches, is now the pastime being indulged in by Ralph D. Thompson, 20 years old, of New York, N. Y. He started out on his long journey on November 27, 1912, and so far has succeeded in touring the states along the Atlantic coast and as far west as Illinois, making twenty states in all. He arrived in Portsmouth Monday, and created considerable interest. Despite his handicap, he gets over the ground as rapidly as any fellow with two legs, and, judging from his appearance, is enjoying splendid health.

So far as known he is the original one-legged globe trotter. He is of a cheerful disposition and has made hundreds of friends since starting on his long and tedious journey. He has walked, or vaulted, the entire [illegible] and believes that he will be able to complete the world's tour in [illegible] time as though he were not handicapped. When a mere lad he lost his left leg while playing on the railroad tracks. He is as cheerful as a bird, well-educated, sees a whole lot of sunshine in life.

Mr. Shriver just returned from a trip around the world last Monday and expects to conduct a vigorous campaign from now on until primary day. At the time he left home on his globe-trotting trip, he was of the impression that he would have a clear field for the nomination, but returned to find that Dr. W. D. DUNHAM BROTHERS TREED BY A HEIFER

You have no doubt read stories of men being treed by lions, bears, tigers and other wild beasts, even down to wild hogs.

But did you ever hear of three big strong men being treed by a heifer, which had been doomed for the slaughter?

Such an experience befell Ben and Roy Dunham and Bill Houston on the Chillicothe pike, the other day, and while you may see considerable fun in the men's predicament, Messrs. Dunham and Houston can't for the life of them see where any fun comes in.

Ben Dunham, who is employed at the Wente meat market on Gallia street, accompanied by his brother Roy, went out to the country to drive home said heifer, who was as fat as butter and which weighed 1100 pounds. But the heifer refused to lead or drive. Instead assumed quite a belligerent attitude and the first thing he knew Roy Dunham was going through space with the speed of an aeroplane, having been propelled by horns of the critter. Both Ben and Roy made for a near tree which they reached in safety and soon were perched on the top most limb. There they sat for several weary hours, the heifer taking up her station at the foot of the tree, squatting on her haunches like a maddened boar. Messrs. Dunham yelled for help and Mr. Houston came over to investigate. He took in the situation in a glance and going to his home secured a high power 32-calibre rifle. Returning to the scene, the heifer made at Houston, who lit out for the fence and made it in safety. By this time the Dunham brothers had returned to terra firma. The maddened beast gave one look in their direction and then with head down and tail up made for them. Ben managed to reach the big tree, which he shinned up with the agility of a squirel. Roy, however, was not so fortunate. All he could grab was a sappling, not over twenty feet tall. It bent under his weight and he gradually approached the ground. Ben grabbing up a club made for the heifer just as Roy fell. With a whoop he began beating the beast over the head until Roy got a toe hold to escape.

He climbed the tree again and Ben also managed to grab a limb when a well directed blow from the club felled the heifer. They both landed in top of the tree and began yelling for Houston to shoot. As the latter had but one cartridge in his rifle, he wanted to make sure enough and waited until the heifer had quieted down. Finally he took a rest on the fence and blazed away. The bullet went square in the head of the beast and penetrated her brain.

The satisfaction of skinning and quartering the beef was keenly enjoyed by the Dunham brothers, who are expert meat cutters, and who ate with relish several big porter house steaks from the critter.

PORTSMOUTH PEOPLE GENEROUS

Portsmouth people are easy, according to the two Huntington lads who were arrested in Cincinnati, Saturday night, as they were trying to run away from a blind man who claims to be their father. The boys told the police that they collected $15 in Maysville in three hours, and that Portsmouth people were just as generous. They also said that the man is not blind, and is not their father.

To the Cincinnati police, the boys gave the names of Linville Swims, 13, and Oscar Brown, 15. The old man's name is William Harkins, 79 years old. He protests that he is blind and that the boys are his own sons. Their work consisted in leading the man while he begged alms.

MRS. J. M. WENDELKEN DIES VERY SUDDENLY

Stricken with neuralgia Sunday evening, almost without warning, Mrs. Otilla Wendelken's condition became so serious that she passed away at 7 o'clock Monday morning at the family residence, 1614 Eleventh street.

The news of Mrs. Wendelken's death will come as a great shock to her many friends as she was enjoying the best of health until fatally stricken shortly after eating supper Sunday evening. She complained of pains in her chest, and she was found to be suffering with neuralgia. When her heart became affected she became so critically ill that she passed away without regaining consciousness.

Mrs. Wendelken was a daughter of the late Vincent Brodbeck, and in addition to her husband, John M. Wendelken, she leaves the following children: Mrs. Frank Kiefer, of the Chillicothe pike, Rosa, Nellie and Dr. Charles Wendelken. Mrs. Wendelken was a member of the German M. E. church and affiliated with the various societies of this church. She was a most estimable woman and the news of her passing away so unexpectedly will be learned of with genuine regret.

RARE METALS USED IN CURING OF DISEASES

There is something both pathetic and ludicrous in the eager attempt to apply new discoveries in science to therapeutics, and convert them into an agency for health. Yet it is admirable in that it proves the eagerness of the medical faculty, and out of much experimenting unquestioned good has come. The three kingdoms of the natural world have explored for materials that shall abate fevers, check contagions, cure eruptions and lessen tuberculosis and while there are many, many disappointments, there are some successes.

We were told yesterday that violets would cure cancer; but today it is injections of gelatins that are infallible. Again, it is the X-Ray, and then it is the juice of a rare vegetable in Brazil. Yet thousands continue to die of cancer, and probably thousands will, before an actual remedy or preventative is discovered.

Since the discovery of radium the application of that element of medicine has been attempted and matters have gone so far that a radium sanitarium is about to be opened near the Imperial Uranium Works in St. Joachimsthal, Bohemia, where the uranium ores, in process of reduction contain a higher percentage of radium than is found in any other known substance. A laboratory has been built at the works for the purpose of separating the radium compounds and passing them on to the sanitarium. For the present it is proposed to pump the water from the uranium mines into tanks where patients can bathe in it. In what other form it is intended to administer the metal is not known, but tests will be made of such tiny portions of the salt as may be secured from enormous masses of rock and the light of radium will be applied to ulcers, cancers and other diseases, such as ineffective nerves and unseeing eyes.

When Dr. Rouse, of the Portsmouth Institute, which is located in the Masonic Temple Building, was asked whether the Bi-Chemic Doctors used radium in their famous treatment, the doctor only smiled and stated that the Bi-Chemic Doctors had spent years of toil and scientific research to solve the secret of nature.

That while the regular schools of medicine had each found out some of the secrets, it was only by combining all of the knowledge of the allopaths, the homopaths, osteopaths and hydrotherapeutics, that a perfect system of curing disease is obtained; that they are willing to give the benefit of this knowledge to the sick, but not to other doctors.

Whether the many wonderful cures that have been made by the Bi-Chemic Doctors were due to radium or not, the fact remains that they have made the cures and sick people are coming from far and near to take advantage of the wonderful treatment.

When it looked like all the time would be consumed by the herd of candidates a five minute limit was placed on each speaker. The day's festivities were featured by an old fashioned basket dinner.

Supt. McCowen At A State Meeting

County Supt. E. O. McCowen and family motored home to Wheelersburg, Sunday, from Columbus, where he has been doing work along professional lines at The Ohio State University. He attended the meeting of the county superintendents of the state held in the Hall of the House of Representatives Friday and Saturday, in pursuance of a call by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The state superintendent emphasized the fact that Ohio is now engaging the attention of the whole United States on account of her new school code. He also pointed out what a great development is possible if the people will rise to their opportunities. Education is a state matter and Ohio has recognized this fact by guaranteeing to each school all the money they need to run an 8 months' school. After the local board has made a levy of 3-4 of total levy limit for tuition purposes, the state will pay whatever deficit is needed to carry on an 8 months' school on the approval of the county superintendent.

Many points of school law were explained and instruction given by the State department along various lines of work. It was a profitable meeting and all superintendents seemed deeply interested and seemed to realize the great responsibility resting with them in this matter.

Supt. McCowen entered on his work actively today. The County Board of Education will meet at the court house tomorrow, Tuesday, August 5th.

TELLS ABOUT INDIA

Conditions that exist in India and the work that is being carried on by the missionaries was explained Sunday by Miss Martha Groebe in addresses delivered at the German Evangelical church. Miss Groebe has been a missionary to India for the past seven years and is home on a furlough. In the morning and evening addresses at the Evangelical church she told of the schools that are being established over there and the medical services that are being rendered the heathen. The speaker made quite a hit with her narrations as she spoke from actual service and experience.

SPLENDID AUDIENCES GREET NEW PASTOR

Rev. W. T. Gilliland, new pastor of Manly church, conducted his initial services there Sunday, and he was greeted by a splendid audience in the morning and at the evening services.

Prior to coming to Portsmouth, Rev. Gilliland was for two years pastor of the Ashland, Ky., First M. E. church. He made a very favorable impression Sunday with his new flock as he is an excellent pulpit orator and has a pleasing manner that will win him many friends. In the morning he talked on "The Mission of the Church," and in the evening his theme was "Our Personal Responsibilities."

REV. ALLSUP TO PREACH

Rev. B. J. Allsup of Huntington, W. Va., will deliver the sermon at the Central Presbyterian church next Sunday. Bernard Held has been filling the pulpit for six weeks, ever since Rev. W. H. Christian gave up the pastorship to accept the pulpit at Georgetown, Ohio. Rev. Allsup is being considered by the session as a pastor to succeed Rev. Christian.

Special to The Times—Despite the fact that he issued six walks, Tigue, Portsmouth's premier southpaw, who has been enjoying a vacation for the past six weeks, made the Senators of this fair city eat out of his hand yesterday, fanning eleven men, allowing but four hits and shutting out Beers' [illegible]. There was never a time but once when Tigue was in danger and that was in the third [illegible] when Calvert [illegible] of one and [illegible] it mightily to the left field fence. [illegible] was on the sacks and had the ball gone over, the locals would have tied the score right then and there. However, the ball hit on top of the fence and rebounded to the [illegible] clutches of Baggan, who held Calvert to two bases.

The fielding of the visitors was sensational in the extreme, some of the plays [illegible] remarkable. Tigue took part in two fast plays and did his share toward winning the game. Diltz made three pretty catches in right field. However, Tigue was so airtight in his pitching that the visitors had quite an easy time of it. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the pitching [illegible] have plenty of stuff but he was found for several [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] for the Senators. Spiders Defeated Steel Plant Team, Now City Champs

The Spiders are the city champions. The field for the city championship was staged at Millbrook Park Sunday afternoon, between the Steel Plant and Spiders, before a nice crowd, the Spiders winning out by a score of 9 to 0. It made the second game out of three played by these two teams which are evenly matched. The field was heavy and base running and fielding was not of the best. The Spiders started things off right by making three in the first inning. The Steel Plant nine lost all their pep after the three runs were shoved across. Heavy hitting by the Spiders counted for six of their runs, the six errors by the losers being responsible for the unearned three. F. Samson, who took up the task of hurling for the Steel Plant lads, was replaced by Roberts in the fourth inning and he was but a shade better than Samson, who was in no shape to pitch on account of pitching Saturday. The heavy hitting of Meyers, Monk, Brown and Reynolds featured the game.

The Spiders will meet a nine composed of former Virginia Mountain State league stars on their grounds in Willow Park next Sunday. Following is the game in figures:

Fullerton Ball Team Won Three Games

The Fullerton nine covered themselves with glory Sunday afternoon when they won three games at their home grounds at Coney Island. A nine from East Portsmouth hit the dust, going down to defeat by a score of 24 to 0. A village nine from White Oak was beaten by a score of 10 to 0. Anderson and Reed worked for the White Oak nine while Beckles and Sipert were in the points for the winners.

The Fullerton outlaws were the last team to leave the field with nine goose-eggs. The score was 5 to 0. Timberlake and [illegible] worked for the Outlaws while Beckles and Sipert did the battery work for Fullerton.

Secret Is Let Out

New York, Aug. 3.—The reason why Niehoff, the Reds' third baseman, did not jump to the Chicago Feds several weeks ago has just leaked out. It appears that Niehoff received an offer of [illegible] a year on a three year contract from the Feds. He accepted terms [illegible] [illegible] but hung around [illegible] expecting to hear a last word from Herrmann. Tinker meanwhile [illegible] from Chicago to see [illegible]. The Reds' third baseman [illegible] games against the Cubs [illegible] so many [illegible] that the Chifeds' [illegible] everything off, so Niehoff [illegible] visions of gold and [illegible] for less money ever [illegible].

WAIVERS ON LAJOIE

Cleveland is going to ask waivers on Lajoie. This once famous player is in the evening of his baseball career. He has been of little service to the Cleveland club this year. Lajoie will hardly get out of the big leagues, as several teams could use him to good advantage.

Shamrocks Defeated Maysville White Sox

The fast Shamrocks journeyed to Maysville Sunday to play the recently reorganized White Sox, and returned victors, by the score of 6 to 2. The Sox were no match for the Shamrocks but as a return game is promised for later in the season, a good battle is expected, as the White Sox, with some practice and team work, can put up a fine game. Dunham's pitching and hitting was the feature, striking out 14 men and allowing but 3 hits. The Shamrocks were treated splendidly without exception and stand for Maysville every time. Only a fair sized crowd witnessed the game. The Shamrocks will probably play one of the fastest amateur teams around Cincinnati, Sunday, August 9th. The score:

LOCAL BOY MAKES GOOD

Leroy Lewis, a Fullerton, Ky., boy, is making good as a pitcher with Newport News, in the Virginia League. Lewis pitched for the Fullerton Midgets last summer and has a world of stuff. He was with Harrisburg, in the Virginia Mountain League when that league blowed. He only won a small number of his games, as he was worked four days out of each week. When any pitcher got knocked out, Lewis was always sent in to take his place. As soon as the league passed out of existence, the manager of the Newport News nine quickly signed the local lad who is now making good, as he gets the rest that any pitcher deserves.

Outlaws Lost Two

The Outlaws lost two games Sunday at Willow Park. The Navies were the victors in the first game, emerging from the fray with a 10 to 9 score. Cottrell and Clevenger worked for the winners while Severs and Applegate were in the points for the Outlaws.

The second game was called at the end of the fifth inning on account of the fire. The Brewers (Gas-Rushers) carried off the spoils of the second battle by a score of 6 to 0. Musser and Applegate were in the points for outlaws, Jeffords and L. Cooper worked for the winners.

SCIOTOVILLE WON GAME

The Sciotoville baseball nine journeyed to Waits Station Sunday afternoon where they engaged in battle with the village nine. The game broke up at the end of the fifth inning with the score 11 to 0 in favor of Sciotoville.

The East Enders came back strong Saturday, taking two games from the Kendall Avenuers by one-sided scores. Moore twirled the first game for the East Enders, and kept his hits scattered. Donnelly who opposed him was wild, walking 10 men. Brady featured at the bat, getting three doubles in five times up.

Southpaw Dowdy, the East Enders' new twirler, pitched a swell game, fanning 10 Kendall Avenue batters, and holding the nine to five hits. The scores:

Head Was Gashed

Frank E. Hawkins, an N. & W. car foreman, while hurrying to get out of the way of an approaching freight train stumbled over a cross tie and fell against a rail, receiving quite a gash on the head at the East Portsmouth Terminals Sunday evening. It required several stitches to sew up the wound. Mr. Hawkins was able to go to his home at No. 1661 Logan street unassisted.

Pray and You Will Receive.

As the family was about to leave the dinner table little Elsie was observed with her head bowed and her hands clasped. "Why, Elsie," said her mother, "don't you know that dinner is over?" "Don't interrupt me, please," replied Elsie. "I'm praying for another dish of that puddin'."—Chicago News.

Have Plans For A Catholic Mission

Plans are under way for establishing a Catholic mission at New Boston, chiefly intended for the purpose of looking after the spiritual wants of the many foreign laborers employed at the Portsmouth Steel plant.

The colony of foreigners now comprises several hundred Croations, quite a number of Serbs, Poles, Bulgarians and Italians, and it is expected to make a start among them by opening a Sunday school. A church for the Catholic foreigners has been under consideration for several years, but nothing definite was ever undertaken. The fact that the men are required to work every day, including Sundays, and because many had not yet brought their families with them, caused the church authorities to defer action.

N. & W. STATION AT KINGSTON IS ROBBED

Detective James Bauens of the N. & W., received word late Saturday afternoon that unknown thieves forcibly entered the N. & W. passenger station at Kingston, Friday night, and wrecked the iron safe in which the records of the office were kept. The thieves were not aware that the safe was unlocked and used a heavy sledge hammer to smash the combination. Their efforts were useless, however, as nothing of value was contained in the safe, and nothing of value was missing from the station. The authorities have no clue to the robbers, who are thought to have been hoboes.

Agent Griffin has filed a report showing an increase of ticket sales for this station for the year ending June 30th, 1914, of $727.-05. This increase is nearly two dollars per day and is a very pleasing one indeed. All of this in face of the fact that one way rates have been reduced to two and one-half cents per mile, also there are about five annual passes issued where there was none before and one mileage book. All of these obstacles do not seem to clog the wheels of progress one particle. The express business is holding its own, the legal business has more than doubled in twelve months.

Rev. Hughes Answers Business Men's Ad

Rev. Alfred F. Hughes, pastor of the Bigelow M. E. church, in his Sunday evening sermon on the subject, "Is Statewide Prohibition Desirable" seized the opportunity to explain the full text of the proposed amendment as advocated by the Liberal League of Ohio and to turn his battery of invectives upon the Business Men's League of Scioto county. Most of the sermon was illustrated and the big audience, who heard Rev. Hughes' sermon insist that it was one of the most thorough and comprehensive expositions of the wet and dry situation in Ohio that has been delivered in the city in a long time. He said in part:

I want to charge this amendment with being vague. I have taken that amendment and shown it to many citizens in this city, people of above the average intelligence, and I have had them read that thing, and I have the first man yet who can say that he can understand just what it does mean. It is a loaded gun. They are coming out here and asking us to point a gun at our heads and then pull the trigger,—not knowing whether the thing is loaded or not. They think all the citizens of Ohio are fools whenever they try to make us believe that their statement of that thing will [illegible] on the basis of the clear wording of the text of the amendment. There is a colored gentleman in the woodpile somewhere.

That is a question for the supreme court to pass upon, and you cannot tell exactly what they will do, although I shall show you presently what some men who have been on the supreme bench will say and have said already.

"The liquor question is a local question and as such issue is to be decided by the local vote and not by outside vote."

That either means all it says or it does not mean anything. If the liquor question is a local question with all that implies, then I maintain that every regulative measure on the statute books of Ohio, by the working of that amendment, become local measures and not state laws and therefore every one of them are nullified when that amendment goes into effect.

I want to say, for the benefit of these gentlemen, when we talk about political grafting, anybody who knows the facts knows there is no trust, no monopoly, no influence which will go any further, or so far, to debauch the representatives of the state, to corrupt the political influences of the state, to do anything it can to tie the state, hand and foot, as the liquor trust. It is the worst trust there is in the whole country from the standard of trusts and monopolies, and you once kick it out of the state and it is in bad repute, it has a bad odor.

"The Business Men's League of Scioto County—I suppose there are some good men in that league. Perhaps I have some good friends in that league. For those men as individuals I have no unkind words, but the institution as an institution, the league as a league, I do not know what it is, but I have a pretty good idea why it is."

The skeaper referred here to the fact that the Business Men's League had a stenographer in the audience who would take notes as to what he said. He added that he was grateful to the fact that the league had bought advertising space in the paper to tell what the church was doing and that he himself would be glad to pay the bill if sent him. He added that he was grateful that his message would be taken down stenographically as there would be no chance for error in its report.

The speaker said, "It might be interesting to inquire why the Business Men's League deems it necessary to correct statements that are made with reference to an amendment that is fathered and passed by the Ohio Home Rule association. Why is the connection between the Business Men's League of Scioto County and the Ohio Home Rule association? Why the two names? Why has the Liberty League of Ohio disappeared, evidently, and the Ohio Home Rule association appeared? Why all these changes of name? Why all these attempts to hide identity? To throw dust in the eyes of the people? Not to stand four square? May I say in passing that my name is Alfred F. Hughes. I am pastor of Bigelow Methodist church, at Portsmouth, Ohio. I live on the corner of Fifth and Washington streets. I am 6 feet, one inch in heighth, weigh 200 pounds, have light hair and brown eyes. There is no man in the city or county that I run from, every word I say I stand behind, and everybody knows just who I am and where I am. (Applause.) Whenever I have anything to say in a newspaper it will go over my signature and it will not be behind some non-de-plume, whose only purpose is to deceive and hide."

I will say, in the first place, that in the amendment that was quoted in the issue of The Times a statement was left out by mistake, which read thus: "Or a township outside of municipal corporations therein." I am very grateful to the so-called league for calling attention to the mistake. I presume the mistake was mine. I have not seen the copy that I furnished the newspaper, but I will take the blame for that and am very glad to do so."

They say, "We cannot help but feel that the pastor who preached the sermon was misled by the garbled statements regarding the amendment that have been sent out from the headquarters of the Ohio Anti-Saloon League." What did the Business Men's League of Scioto County know about that amendment any more than the pastor of Bigelow church." Did they write it? If they did, why not tell the state so? If they didn't write it, what do they know what it means more than what I know what it means, or anyone else, but the plain reading of the English?

At this point, Rev. Hughes read at length from several opinions furnished him by men of judicial training. One of the opinions concerning the amendment was given by Frederick A. Henry, for seven years a member of the circuit court or court of appeals in Cuyahoga county, and is as follows: "The proposed amendment providing for home rule on the subject of intoxicating liquors seem to me to prohibit state wide prohibition by legislative enactment and to specifically destroy county option and to nullify all state laws prohibiting the sale of liquor, whether to drunkards, minors or in other ways now prohibited by law. No matter how one may vote on the subject of state wide prohibition, he should not, if he has any sense of good citizenship, whatever, vote for the proposed home rule amendment." Rev. Hughes also quoted from Judge Kilits, federal judge, Judge W. N. Davis, for thirteen years judge of the supreme court of Ohio and Judge Bambach, of Brown county, Ohio to uphold his contentions concerning the amendment.

Austrian Reservists at Consul General's Office Clamoring to Go Back Home to Join the War

A few hours after the Austrian general consul for the United States in New York had issued a call to arms to the reservists of the Austrian army in the United States the office swarmed with them. From far and near about New York they had come to offer their services and to learn when they should be shipped back.

Vice-Consul Friderich Fishérauer, as shown in the photograph, was so busy taking names and addresses of the applicants that all other business was suspended. It has been said there are 100,000 reservists of the Austrian army in the United States. These men are under oath to return to Austria any time the call comes. It is believed the oath precludes them from swearing allegiance to the United States, as would be required were they to become naturalized citizens.
